

"At last, an easy fun affordable way to meet new people you'd like to dine with"

Did you meet 3 interesting members of the opposite sex last weekend?

Where are all the interesting people you would like to meet over a meal this weekend? We are often told by our new clients that they don't know where the single people who are in their age group and enjoy similar interests to them are to be found. Well if you're not attending our dinners then you probably won't find them. The majority of our clients don't enjoy pubs or clubs. But they love to dine in the restaurants we choose and enjoy interesting conversation with the 5 other people we arrange for them to meet. Don't forget, if you introduce a new client, you will receive a free booking fee to your next dinner.

Send us your suggestions

If we have your email address, then you have probably received our request to send us your suggestions. This year we are upgrading our website and we'd love to hear your requests and suggestions for improvement. The suggestions that have come in so far have been great and we're working on them right now. Our questions will become regular as we strive to provide the best service available.

The web address for suggestions is www.atableforsix.com.au/ask.html

Wingwoman is latest dating idea

Watch out girls! If you're out and you're approached by a friendly, confident female, smiling, asking your name, and commenting on your dress, you could be the victim of a wingwoman. It's a new phenomenon sweeping the dating world. Her job is to accompany single men out for the night and help them meet a potential date. While she's "warming you up", the guys hang back and wait for an invite to join them. Once she's accepted into your conversation, she'll make sure she drops a line about how great her single guy friend is. Enter Mr Single, and after introductions, Miss Wingwoman will exit and leave you alone to get to know each other. It's probably been happening for years in a less formal, organised way. What do you think?

Lots of practical advice to make the most of every social occasion. Keeping you informed on our upcoming dinners and group events.

Guys, remember her details on your first encounter

When you first meet a lady, repeat her name after she introduces herself. Make a mental note of what she does for a living or things you have in common.

Remembering some of the major elements of her life will impress her and maybe help you to secure a date.

Gail's News

Hi everyone,

Upcoming events for the May-July period include the Wine Tasting which will be on Sunday, May 29th. We will take a bus to the Albert River Winery for a tasting of their local grape, this will take about an hour, then back onto the bus for the 45min trip to the Canungra Valley Vineyards which is set amongst the most beautiful scenery. At this point we will enjoy of another tasting and then tuck into a wonderful lunch overlooking the vineyards and surrounding areas. Musicians playing jazz and blues, etc will entertain you towards the end of lunch, then about 3-4.00pm we will board the bus for home. Details re pickups/arrivals will be advised later.

Christmas in July will also be on again this year. The food, ambience and price for our last Christmas bash at Harley Street was first class and I am considering booking that particular restaurant again. I shall advise more details regarding price etc towards the end of May.

Enjoy your dinners and remember any feedback, positive or negative is appreciated at any time.

CheersGail

How Not To Be a Bore

Watch for body language and change the subject if you notice your discourse on quantum physics is producing glazed expressions in your listeners. If people begin to shuffle their feet, start to look around the room or at their watch, there's a good chance they're dying to make a fast getaway. Similarly, if they're slumping in their seat and haven't uttered a word in thirty minutes, they're bored.

Anna's News

Hello and welcome to our latest newsletter where we update you with all the information on what's happening here on the Sunshine Coast.

Thank you to my wonderful 22 guests for a great Valentines Cocktail night at the Boatshed Cotton Tree. What a perfect night with wine, cocktails, chocolates and flowers. Zachery's Gourmet Pizza Restaurant of Mooloolaba is a great venue that we have been enjoying with open and airy leather lounges and wide TV's. Gourmet pizza by the pool and the nightlife starts around 10.30pm. Room to move and the pizza's are good at a great price. Across the road is Montezuma's. If you're in the 30-40 group grab a spot at the dinner on the 19th April. Our progressive dinner at Mooloolaba was a fun night. Everyone had a laugh and a great time. Nibbles at the Beachhouse, entree on the lovely couches at Vibes, and then we moved on to The Spirit of Tibet. Watch out for the wine tasting trip to the Old Morge at Yandina on 17th April. Only $66 including booking fee, nibbles, bus trip, gift, tasting of 7 wines and a fantastic lunch. After that it's back to Cracked Pepper to listen to a New Zealand band.

Regards.....Anna
