widen your circle of friends."*

What our clients say

The dinner was great and the service was pretty good, it was a great choice. Could you please book me in for the Christmas party, not sure what date or venue but book me in I don't want to miss out.

I had a good night. It was quite a busy venue and good atmosphere. I wouldn't mind catching up with Jan again. Would it be possible to request further contact please? Over all I had a great night and a great laugh and I thought it was a terrific table of people, so thanks for your efforts.

It's the festive season. Come to the Party

Well-heeled singles have long been complaining there's nowhere to go in the festive season to meet intelligent, engaging and interesting singles of their own age. That has all changed with A Table for Six's highly successful group functions and dinners of 6. Over the last couple of years they have become such a hit, providing singles with a quality place to eat, mingle and meet. It's a passion of ours, and it shows in our specially selected functions tailored to our clients needs. Don't miss our Christmas Parties, New Year's Eve parties. In January we'll celebrate Chinese New Year with dragons and fireworks. February will bring our annual Valentine's Cocktail Party. Stay up to date. Check out what's coming up at www.atableforsix.com.au

6 Ways to Make Your best impression at Dinner

One: Be Considerate. Taking an interest in other people and their preferences and interests shows that you aren't self-absorbed. It's a good way to get to know people and sends the message that you think enough of them to bother asking.

Two: Good Manners are always a winner What a great idea it would be to ask us to send a "Thank you for your company at Dinner. I enjoyed meeting you". message to someone you dined with. It shows good old-fashioned manners and it's all part of our service to you free of charge.

Three: Be Sincere Everybody needs a compliment or two to feel good about themselves occasionally. However, there's nothing worse than if it's false and insincere. Everyone appreciates a sincere compliment and by the way if you receive one, accept it graciously.

Four: Be Yourself If you are outgoing and the life of the party, then don't hide it. (but don't forget to give others a chance to speak) If you are more reserved and a great listener, then don't disguise it. (but don't forget you have to make an effort so that people can get to know you) The right people will enjoy your company.

Five: Interact Your mood and attitude will greatly influence your experience at dinner. If you go along expecting to enjoy the company of some interesting people, there's a very good chance you will. What's more your enthusiasm will rub off on the other diners.

Six: Good grooming and Dress Making an effort to look snappy is the best favour you can do for yourself. Nothing markets you like the image you present. Think of the way you size people up with your first glance. Show your unique style and impress.

Bonnie's News from Brisbane

It's been wonderful getting to know so many of you over the past 7 weeks. I'm so fortunate that I have already had the pleasure of meeting over 150 members when I was a client myself. I attended many dinners as well as the Jazz Cruise last December, Valentines Cocktail Party in February and Xmas in July. Not to forget the fabulous winery tour in September. Every weekend I meet interesting new clients and then, in turn you enjoy their company at dinners. Some of you have taken the time to phone and give your ideas on improving our service. I welcome your feedback and input. I also look forward to meeting many more of you when I attend both of the Xmas parties. By Xmas time I aim to have met over 250 members. If I haven't met you, please let me extend an invitation of a coffee and a chat. Every Saturday and Sunday I meet new clients at Coffee Clubs around Brisbane. When I have a spare 1/2 hour I'd love to shout you a coffee and get to know you a little better. I also intend to organise girls nights out so 6 or 8 of us can meet. Now gentlemen don't feel left out with that, I thought you may be happier with meeting with a cold beverage during the happy hour, my shout of course. I extend an invitation to you all to check out the website and book into one of the Xmas parties. Warning!! Do not book into the young people event and expect it to be quite and sedate. Quite the opposite. Check out the venue for the 25-45 Xmas Party at www.barsoma.com.au If a Xmas party overlooking the Brisbane River at River Canteen is more your style sipping champagne and nibbling canapes, book into the 40+ group. If not sure have a chat with me and will guide you. Visit www.rivercanteen.com.au to see your venue.

How to handle tricky foods

Avocado

If the avocado is served in it's shell, it is eaten with a spoon. It will usually come with a salad dressing, or even seafood, in the cavity. If it is served sliced on the plate or in a salad, simply eat it with a fork.

Moreton Bay Bugs

The best part of a 'bug' is the fleshy meat in the tail. Use a seafood pick-a long thin implement with a pointy, two-pronged tip-to delve into the shell and pry the flesh out. If no pick is provided, use your fingers and ask for a fingerbowl or a paper napkin.

Corn

There are two methods of eating corn on the cob. The first is to hold the corncob at each end using the small tongs provided and bite into it; the second method is to hold the corncob in your left hand by the prong provided and cut from top to bottom, slicing the kernels onto the plate.

Oysters (fresh)

For fresh oysters served in the half-shell, use an oyster fork. Hold the shell with your left hand and remove the oyster whole with the fork in your right hand. Dip the oyster in the sauce and eat it in one mouthful.

Anna's News from The Sunshine Coast

Well hello there, back all fresh ready for the run up until Christmas. Some of you will know that I went to Fraser Island for my 40th Birthday. I love Fraser. It's so much fun fishing and going crabbing. It all got very exciting as a 7 foot shark swam within meters of my legs. He glided past me hunting fish. He was in so close that his body was half out of the water. We also experienced 5 dingoes around us. They were trying to get our fish. All of this happened at the same time. – Exciting stuff!!

Hope everyone went well in the Melbourne Cup. It was a great day in Caloundra with lovely weather. A young group had a ball at the Coast Casual Dining. It was a very early morning for all, but they had a blast. Nothing but fabulous comments about this restaurant. Don't miss the next dinner there on 25th November for 30-40. It's filling fast.

On 12th November there's a great opportunity to meet 2 lovely ladies from Brisbane who are coming up to dine at the Boatshed. It's the 45-55 age bracket and we're looking for gentlemen for this table.

On 18th November we have a dinner for 35-45 at the Platinum, Maroochydore. Specialising in Mediterranean/Asian foods using local ingredients. There'll be great food and great vibes on 2nd December at Vibes Restaurant of Mooloolaba. With modern Australian cuisine and casual style dining. Then you can move on to the dance floor to finish the night. It's a Hip Hop groovy place for the young at heart 35-45 group. There'll be elegant dining on the verandah overlooking the lagoon on the 10th December at the Naked Italian for the 40-50 age group. Exquisite food, exquisite restaurant fully licensed.

Come and have dinner and a drink with us at our end of year XMas Dinner on 16th December at The Boatshed, Cotton Tree It's an open age group and everyone's welcome. Our Christmas menu includes breads, choice of 3 entrée's and choice of 3 main meals. Choose from calamari, chicken, eye fillet, turkey with all the trimmings and fish just to name a few. Topped off with tea, coffee, wine, champagne and Christmas chocolates (I can e-mail the menu just let me know) Enjoy the Xmas spirit. An all up fee of just $80 including booking fee. So make your prepayment to secure your seat. They're filling fast!!
